

AutismOne & Generation Rescue
Conference: Redefining Autism
May 23 – May 30, Chicago, Illinois

Redefining Autism provides the answers to your most pressing questions. No matter where your child is on the spectrum hope is real. No matter the age of your child healing is possible.

For 7 days you will be immersed in all things autism. You will learn from the world's leading medical practitioners, find out about the latest research findings, come to discover the most effective therapies, learn about you and your child's legal rights, and be given the tools and understanding to immediately begin helping your child and your family.

Highlights

- We have so much good information the conference has been increased from 5 days to 7.
- Monday and Tuesday are free.
- Rally, in Grant Park, Wednesday afternoon. The age of advocacy begins.
- Legal Training, Thursday for attorneys and parents. Join the fight.
- Jenny McCarthy, keynote address, main conference, Saturday, May 29.
- Dr. Andrew Wakefield, keynote address at the legal training program, Thursday, May 27.
- Advocacy track. Everything you need to know to make a difference.
- Over 150 speakers.

Autism is the number one pediatric health crisis in the world today and you can help change that. Working together we will end the epidemic and restore the health of our children and country.

Become your child's most effective caregiver and advocate. Learn more at www.AutismOne.org or email info@autismone.org.

AutismOne is a parent-driven, charity organization helping children and families with autism.